The Guadalupe Homeless Project: Our History

The Guadalupe Homeless Project (GHP) was founded on December 12, 1988 by Jesuit priests. The community decided to open the doors to Dolores Mission Church to house refugee families and provide sanctuary for undocumented immigrants.

The women's shelter was founded years after on December 12, 2014. Today, GHP is a grassroots-community led program.

Our Approach

All humans deserve to live in dignity

Our unhoused neighbors honor us and the community with their presence

More than just a shelter, we provide a home

Our shelters are “small but mighty”. We have a high staff to participant ratio.

Shelter residents are part of the fabric of community life

Individuals are welcomed and embraced by the broader community, which helps to restore their sense of wholeness

Our vision is that participants remain a part of the community after they transition to housing

Our Approach Continued

Community-Based Care:

The shelter is part of the community and the community part of the shelter, which helps build a sense of belonging for residents

Asset-Based:

Each person has strengths and values to bring

Whole-Person:

Not just about housing, about building self-identity and supporting individuals to realize their potential

Trauma-Informed:

We understand that a person's unique life experiences impacts the type of support they need

Latino Homelessness

Our expertise is in serving immigrants and recent arrivals to the US, true to our roots and Jesuit values.

Our programming is culturally relevant, and offered primarily in Spanish.

From 2020 - 2023, there has been a 29% increase in Latino homelessness.

In the past year, we have seen an increase migrants arriving from Venezuela, Colombia and Cuba.
